RE: Proposed Rule 6.4

Dear Mr. Sondheim:

The State Bar of California's Committee on Professional Responsibility and Conduct (COPRAC) appreciates the opportunity to comment on the proposed amendments to the Rules of Professional Conduct of the State Bar of California, pursuant to the request of the Board Committee on Regulation, Admissions & Discipline Oversight (RAD) for public comment.

COPRAC has reviewed the provisions of proposed Rule 6.4 - Law Reform Activities. COPRAC supports the adoption of proposed Rule 6.4 and the Comments to the Rule.

Thank you for your consideration of our comments.

Very truly yours,

Old Rule No./Title: None

Proposed New Rule No./ Title: Rule 6.4. Law Reform Activities Affecting Client Interests

QUESTIONS (please use separate sheets of paper as necessary):

(1) Is the policy behind the new rule correct? If “yes,” please proceed to the next question. If “no,” please elaborate, and proceed to Question #4.

Yes [XX] No []

(2) Is the new rule practical for attorneys to follow? If “yes,” please proceed to the next question. If “no,” please elaborate, and then proceed to the Conclusions section.

Yes [] No [XX]

In some instances, it would be impossible for a lawyer to comply with Proposed Rule 6.4 without revealing client confidences in violation of Rule 1.6 and Cal. Bus & Prof. Code § 6068(e).

California Proposed Rule 6.4 recites in relevant part: “When the lawyer knows that the interests of a client may be materially benefitted or adversely affected by a decision in which the lawyer participates, the lawyer shall disclose that fact but need not identify the client.” (Emphasis added.)

However, it is foreseeable that a lawyer involved in law reform will not always be able to disclose that a client’s interests may be materially benefitted or adversely affected without disclosing client confidences. The mere fact that a client need not be identified does not solve the problem. Hiding the client’s identity does not permit the lawyer to reveal the client’s confidences. In addition, a lawyer’s record of representing certain clients may be enough in some instances for others to correctly infer the client whose interests would be materially benefitted or adversely affected.

In such instances when a lawyer could not make the disclosure required by Proposed Rule 6.4 without disclosing client confidences, an option must be permitted. Proposed Rule 6.4 should explicitly provide that option, either in the text of the rule or in a comment, by stating that, if disclosure is not permitted by the lawyer’s obligations to clients under other Rules and statutes, the lawyer should instead recuse himself or herself from participating in the decision that may materially benefit or adversely affect the client.

(3) Is the new rule worded correctly and clearly? If “yes, please proceed to the Conclusions section. If “no,” please elaborate, and then proceed to the Conclusions section.

Yes [] No [XX]

In accordance with the comments under section (2), above, Proposed Rule 6.4 could be worded as follows (addition in bold, underline text):

A lawyer may serve as a director, officer or member of an organization involved in reform of the law or its administration notwithstanding that the reform may affect the interests of a client of the lawyer. When the lawyer knows that the interests of a client may be materially benefitted or adversely affected by a decision in which the lawyer participates, the lawyer shall disclose that fact, if not prohibited by the lawyer’s obligations to clients under other Rules and statutes, but need not identify the client. If disclosure is prohibited, the lawyer shall not participate in any decision that may materially benefit or adversely affect the interests of his or her client.

In the alternative, Proposed Rule 6.4 could remain worded as currently proposed but be accompanied by a second Comment worded as follows:

Comment [2]

If disclosure is prohibited by the lawyer’s obligations to any client under other Rules and statutes, then a lawyer cannot provide the disclosure required. If disclosure is prohibited, or if the lawyer chooses not to disclose in accordance with Rule 6.4 for any other reason, the lawyer shall not participate in any decision that the lawyer knows may materially benefit or adversely affect the interests of a client.

The addition of “Comment [2]” may be sufficient to rectify the problem here, given that Rule 6.4 begins, “A lawyer may serve as a director, officer or member of an organization involved in reform of the law... .” The Rule is not unequivocally permissive. “May” implies that there could be limits, and those limits could be spelled out in the comments.

Another concern is the impact this rule will have on members who participate in organizations such as the California Conference of Delegates. The addition of another Comment to address this issue is encouraged. It is hard to imagine that the drafters intended all the delegates to make such disclosures to the Conference but including “members” within the ambit or the proposed rule, rather than limiting it to officers and directors of the Conference leads to a questionable outcome.

(4) Is the policy behind the existing rule correct? If “yes,” please proceed to the Conclusions section. If “no,” please elaborate, and then proceed to the Conclusions section.

Yes [] No []

N/A

(5) Do you have any other comments about the proposed rule? If so, please elaborate here:

See comments in Section (2), above.

CONCLUSIONS (pick one):

[] We approve the new rule in its entirety.

[XX] We approve the new rule with modifications.*

[] We disapprove the new rule and support keeping the old rule.

[] We disapprove the new rule and recommend a rule entirely different from either the old or new rule.*

[] We abstain from voting on the new rule but submit comments for your consideration.*

* If you select one of the * options, please make sure your concerns are included in your comments above in response to Questions 1-5, or set the forth on a separate sheet of paper.

re: Comments of the Office of the Chief Trial Counsel to Proposed Amendments to the Rules of Professional Conduct

Dear Ms. Hollins:

Preliminarily, the Office of the Chief Trial Counsel (OCTC) would like to thank Harry B. Sondheim, Chair, Mark L. Tuft and Paul W. Vapnek, Co-Vice-Chairs, and the members of the Commission for the Revision of the Rules of Professional Conduct, for the opportunity to submit comments to the proposed amendments to the Rules of Professional Conduct, as released for public comment by the Board of Governors. We appreciate the Commission's considerable efforts in crafting rules of conduct for California attorneys relevant to our contemporary legal environment. While we concur with many of the Commission's recommendations, we raise some points of disagreement. Our disagreement is offered in the spirit of aiding in the adoption of rules which can be practically and fairly understood by the attorneys in this state and applied in a uniform fashion by both this Office and the State Bar Court. While OCTC has submitted comments in the past to some of these rules as they were initially submitted,¹ we welcome this opportunity to comment on the entire set of rules and in context. Further, there have been changes to the proposed rules since our original comments.² We hope you find our thoughts helpful.

SUMMARY

We summarize our main concerns as follows:

- Some of the rules are becoming too complicated and long, making them difficult to understand and enforce;
- There are way too many Comments to the Rules, making the rules unwieldy, confusing, and difficult to read, understand, and enforce. Many of the Comments are more appropriate for treatises, law review articles, and ethics opinions. The Comments clutter and overwhelm the rules. We recommend that most of the Comments be stricken or that the Rules be adopted without the Comments;

¹ OCTC refers the Commission to its previous comments and recommendations.

² We are not commenting on the rules that were not recommended or tentatively adopted by the Board of Governors (BOG).

- Many of the Comments are too large and thus bury the information sought to be presented;
- Several of the Comments are in our opinion legally incorrect (i.e. Comment 9 of Rule 1.8.1 and Comment 5 of rule 1.9);
- One of the Comments invades OCTC's prosecutory discretion (i.e. Comment 6 of Rule 8.4);
- Some of the rules are confusing and inconsistent with the State Bar Act (i.e. that an attorney's misrepresentation to a court cannot be based on gross negligence);
- Some of the rules attempt to define and limit provisions adopted by the Legislature in the State Bar Act (i.e. Rule 1.6's defining the scope of confidentiality in Business & Professions Code section 6068(e)); and
- Some of the proposed rules deviate unnecessarily from the ABA Model Rules (i.e. proposed rules 3.9, 4.4 and 8.4).³

GENERAL COMMENTS

OCTC finds many of the proposed rules too lengthy and complicated, often making them difficult to understand and enforce. There are way too many Comments to the Rules, making the rules unwieldy, confusing, and difficult to read, understand, and enforce. We would strongly suggest that the rules be simplified and the Comments either be significantly reduced or entirely eliminated. Otherwise, it is hard to imagine the attorneys of this state reading and understanding the entirety of the rules and official Comments. Further, we believe that some of the Comments are legally incorrect.

The Rules and Comments are not meant to be annotated rules, a treatise on the rules, a series of ethics opinions, a law review article, or musings and discussions about the rules and best practices. There are other more appropriate vehicles for such discussions and expositions.

Every attorney is required to know and understand the Rules of Professional Conduct. This is why ignorance of a rule is no defense in a State Bar proceeding. (See Zitny v. State Bar (1966) 64 Cal.2d 787, 793.) Yet, the proposed rules (including Comments) are 99 pages; contain 68 rules; and almost 500 Comments. One rule alone has 38 Comments.⁴

In contrast, the current rules are 30 pages; contain 46 rules; and 94 comments.⁵ The 1974 rules were 13 pages; contained 25 rules; and 6 comments.⁶ The original 1928 rules were 4 pages long; contained 17 rules; and had no comments.

³ Unless stated otherwise, all future references to section are to a section of the Business & Professions Code; all references to rule are to the current Rules of Professional Conduct; all references to proposed rule is to the Commission's proposed Rule of Professional Conduct; and all references to the Model Rules are to the ABA's current Model Rules of Professional Conduct.

⁴ See proposed rule 1.7. Another rule has 26 comments. (See proposed rule 1.6.)

⁵ The current rules list them as Discussion paragraphs; most are unnumbered, but OCTC estimates there are 94 paragraphs of discussion and will refer to them as comments so that there is a standard reference.

⁶ The 1974 rules had 6 footnotes (*), four simply reference another rule and two contain a short substantive discussion.

Letter from OCTC
To Randall Difuntorum
June 15, 2010

Many of the proposed Comments appear to be nothing more than a rephrasing of the rule or an annotated version of the rule. If the rule is ambiguous or not clear enough, the solution should not be a Comment rephrasing the rule, but a redrafting of the rule so it is clear and understandable. Likewise, discussing the purpose of the rule, best practices, or the limits of the rule are not proper Comments to the rules. There are other better vehicles for such discussions. Lawyers can read and conduct legal research when needed.

In addition, the rules and Comments make too much use of references to other rules and Comments, making it hard to understand the rules. Some of the Comments are too long and, thus, bury information in a very long Comment. Other Comments appear to be legally incorrect. We would recommend that most of the Comments be stricken or that the Rules be adopted without the Comments. It is our understanding that about seven states have not adopted the ABA's Comments, although two of those still provide the ABA's comments as guidance.

We are also concerned that there are too many separate conflicts rules (see rules 1.7, 1.8, 1.9, 1.10, 1.11, 1.12, 1.13(g), and 1.18) and they often incorporate each other, making it difficult to comprehend, understand, and enforce them.⁷

⁷ There is actually no Rule 1.8, but several separate rules, going from 1.8.1 through 1.8.11.

Letter from OCTC
To Randall Difuntorum

Rule 6.4. Law Reform Activities Affecting Client Interests.

1. OCTC supports encouraging law reform activities but is concerned that there is no requirement to advise the lawyer's clients when the reform may affect the interests of the clients.
